

Our Purpose

Sunday School isn't just for Sunday Mornings any more! While most of our Small Groups meet Sunday mornings, a growing number are gathering at other times of the week to accommodate busy schedules. Whenever we meet, a prime purpose is to help people put the pieces together, integrating the Bible into every aspect of our lives.

Some of our Sunday School classes dig deeply into the Word of God, with detailed examinations of both the literal meaning and careful interpretation of the Bible. Other classes tend toward life-issues studies, including guided studies of books by today's leading Christian authors. Many classes use videotaped or DVD-based lessons as part of the course of study.

All classes and ministries rely on the power of prayer, with individual, small-group, and corporate prayer as essential elements of the learning experience.

Faith Connections

Three of our adult Sunday school classes use Faith Connections as their curriculum. This quarter: The journey of the Exodus becomes our journey as God leads us out of bondage and into the Promised Land. What was true for the Israelites is true for us as well: the distinguishing mark of God's people is His abiding presence. The presence of God's glory with us is the guarantee of our spiritual victory!

Pioneers

Cliff McCarl

Fellowship is a good way to describe this class. Here you will find a loving, caring, praying group who are generous in their giving to others. Men and women from middle to senior adults come together for Bible study.

Faithbuilders

Tim Cox

The Faithbuilders class is mostly middle adults, gathering to support and encourage each other in our daily walks with Christ.

Homebuilders

Chris Hampsher, Leader

Homebuilders is a discussion-oriented class that uses Faith Connections as a starting place for lively, group-based conversations. This class ranges from 40-65 years of age. Come join us for fun, food, prayer, praise, caring, and sharing.

G.R.I.P.

Keith & Glenda Burgh

'Cultural issues and the Bible' will examine the scriptural response to issues like abortion, gay rights, debt, separation of church and state, welfare, war and terrorism, to name a few. Our approach will be to compare what the Bible has to say about these items and what our culture is saying about these items. The purpose is to help develop our beliefs based on the scriptures and not on the cultural norm, to learn how to glean what the Bible says about many other issues as they come up in the future and to be salt and light in our work places, neighborhoods and homes.

Christianity 101

James & Susan Leatherwood

Foundations is a safe place for new believers—or those who haven't yet decided whether Christianity is for them—to investigate the fundamentals of the faith, learn about the Bible, and ask questions.

Parents in Training

Trevor & Keri Cook

P.I.T. is a small group for parents of preschool aged children and younger. We meet on Sunday evenings from 5:30-7:30 PM in various homes. We are currently studying the book of James. Previous studies include: "Your Child: Essentials of Discipline" by Dr. James Dobson; "Love and Respect" by Dr. Emerson Eggerich, and a study of cults and how they compare to Christianity.

Young Adults

Andrew Siefer

Ever had a question or topic that interested you but never seemed to come up in discussion? Then this might be the class for you! Topics are almost entirely driven by attendees requests, with no subject off limits. Since each topic has its own depth and breadth then each subject can range from a single class to a period of several weeks.

Recent and upcoming topics include: 'Lot: A Righteous Man?' 'Relationships From a Biblical View', 'Job's Story', 'The Life of David' 'Is Jonah For Kids Only?', 'What Does the Bible Say about Suicide?' and 'End of Times: John's Revelation.' All are welcome to join in on the discussions, so don't hesitate to stop by and contribute to the class!

Women of the Word

Jonna Kay Darland

The Power of a Praying Woman by Stormie Omartian

We are learning to not only pray God's Word but live out His Word in our daily lives. As His Word takes root in our hearts, we want to become His holy and pure Bride, attracting our family and friends to follow Jesus Christ.
